

Association for the Defence of Human Right in Iran – Montreal (ADDHI), is a NGO and its principle objective is to defend Human Rights in Iran, based on the Universal Declaration of Human Rights and other international conventions on Economic, Social and Cultural rights adopted by United Nations General Assembly.

ADDHI was founded in 1994 by a few members of the Iranian Community and has constantly been active in response to expectations of popular movements in Iran for democracy and human rights